SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

Governor Walter F. Frear returned from an official trip to Washington in the steamer Siberia yesterday. His very hard work for Hawaii at the national capital has made him a little pale without impairing any of his customary geniality. Mrs. Frear had postponed her January reception at the gubernatorial mansion until after the Governor's return. Society will be delighted to meet Mr. and Mrs. Frear together again.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. Goar and their daughter, Miss Erna St. Goar, are leaving early in January for the Hawaiian Islands where a round of pleasure awaits them. They will remain there through a greater part of the spring when, according to present plans they will come back to San Francisco.—S. F. Call.

The first society wedding of the new year was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Henry L. Dodge in Franklin street. The bride was Miss Anna Pinney of Montpelier, Vt., who arrived here New Year's day to become the bride of Lieutenant Robert Burns Farquharson, U. S. N. The wedding details were impromptu, since the invitations were given yesterday morning by telephone and all the appointments were hastily arranged for the ceremony. Notwithstanding the hurry of preparation the wedding was a very pretty affair and the setting one of the most effective seen at any of the winter weddings.

The bride was given in marriage by Mrs. Henry L. Dodge, who presided in the place of the bride's mother, Mrs. Truman Pinney, who was detained at her home in Vermont. Lieutenant Farquharson is in the marine corps and the red service color was used in the entire scheme of decoration. In the dining room brilliant poinsettias gave their effective color and the red shaded candelabra were part of the picture. In the reception room, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Morgan, the decorations were a red background with a touch of green at the improvised altar.

Lieutenant Pinkston, U. S. N., acted as best man. Among the other officers of the marine corps present at the ceremony and informal reception that followed were Captain Ramsey, Lieutenant Kilgore and Lieutenant Douglas.

The bride was gowned in a pale blue satin, fashioned in the directoire mode, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses. She is tall and graceful, with the cultivation that comes with study and travel. She is an accomplished musician and will be a charming addition to naval society in Honolulu, where her home is to be for the present. The couple will sail Tuesday for Honolulu, where Lieutenant Farquharson is stationed.

Mrs. Henry L. Dodge was gowned in a black net over satin embroidered in jet and wore jet ornaments. The bride is a cousin of Miss Mabel Dodge of San Rafael, who was present with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Dodge. Other present at the impromptu ceremony and wedding supper were Miss Jennie Blair, Mrs. H. P. Gale, Mrs. P. R. Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Remington Quick.—S. F. Call.

Mrs. Robert Tibbitts, who expects to close her apartment at the Madrid and leave for Honolulu shortly will give a farewell luncheon at the St. Francis Hotel today.—S. F. Bulletin.

Miss Erna St. Goar, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. Goar, left this week for a trip to Honolulu, and will pass several months traveling in the Islands. Miss St. Goar is one of the most popular of the younger girls, and will be missed at the round of affairs planned by the debutantes for the latter weeks of the season.—Chronicle.

Princess Kawanakoa, a member of the Hawaiian royal family, who arrived on the liner Siberia, will leave shortly for New York, where she will remain for the winter.

The princess contemplates a trip to Switzerland and Austria before returning home. She is in mourning for her mother, who died a few weeks ago.

She will probably receive $1,000,000 from the estate.

By the death of her husband Prince David, a few years ago, Princess Kawanakoa inherited many family heirlooms, among which were gifts made to King Kalakaua by the various monarchs of Europe.—S. F. Globe.

Miss Alice Poorman of Alameda entertained at a theater party this afternoon to compliment Mrs. Edward Sturgis, wife of Captain Sturgis, U. S. A. Mrs. Sturgis was Miss Edna Montgomery before her marriage of more than a year ago, and is well known in the smart set in the bay cities. She will sail for Honolulu next Tuesday.—Chronicle's Oakland News.

Installation of officers in Pacific Rebekeah Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., was held on Thursday evening.

The installing officers were D. D. G. Sire Bro. D. P. Lawrence; D. D. Grand Marshal Sister Jennie Jacobson, P. N. G.; D. D. Grand Warden Sister Sallie

L. Williams, P. N. G.; Grand Secretary Sister Jennie Macaulay, Grand Treasurer Sister May Cantin, Grand Inside Guard Sister Rose Lando.

The officers installed were: Noble Grand, Sister Charlotte Wicke; Vice Grand, Sister Freida von Berg; Secretary, Sister Alice Nicholson, P. N. G.; Treasurer, Sister Elean Clark, P. N. G.; Warden, Sister Minerva Leslie; Conductor Sister Kate Farrell; Inside Guard, Sister Anna Hall; Outside Guard, Bro. F. Wicke; R. S. N. G., Bro. E. A. Jacobson; L. S. N. G., Sister Jennie Jacobson, P. N. G.; R. S. V. G., Sister H. Gehring, P. N. G.; L. S. V. G., Sister Hannah Smith, P. N. G.; Chaplain, Sister Alice Pratt, P. N. G.

There was a presentation of a beautiful basket of roses to retiring officer Sister Annie Biddinger, P. N. G. The lodge room had beautiful decorations, as did the roof garden. Olive Branch Lodge attended in a body. Delicious refreshments and an impromptu dance followed.

Major-General H. C. Merriam, Mrs. Merriam and Miss Maude Merriam will go to New York on Wednesday to spend Christmas with Captain Henry M. Merriam at Fort Hancock, New Jersey.—Army and Navy Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. Goar, Miss St. Goar and two lady friends are a party from San Francisco arrived in the steamer Lurline. They visit the volcano and will remain in the islands two weeks. Mr. St. Goar is a member of the firm of J. Pollitz & Co., stockbrokers, who deal extensively in Hawaiian securities.

All Honolulu will be presented at the dramatic entertainment tendered by Mrs. McLennan for the benefit of the Italian earthquake sufferers at the Opera House tonight. MAYOR FERN VETOES SUPERVISORS' GENERAL APPROPRIATION RESOLUTION.

Outwardly all was serene at the meeting of the City and County Board of Supervisors last evening, with the Mayor in the chair, but while it was generally expected that His Honor would veto the payrolls and general expense bill, it was not anticipated that he would do so in two thousand words of semi-legal phraseology and studied secretarial argument.

Clerk Kalaokalani read the document easily and carefully. Supervisor Logan seemed to have thoroughly digested the figures involved, but not being prepared to make a budget speech as might a minister of the exchequer, tho he be, he moved that consideration of the Mayor's veto message go over for five days, until Thursday evening next, which is six days with Sunday, which was carried. Supervisor Aylett listened to the reading with the attitude of one prepared then and there to make a fight, but thought better of it when it appeared that the law holds back consideration for five days. The Supervisors will override Mayor Fern's veto and then the courts may have a chance at settling who's who. Auditor Bicknell possibly refusing to issue warrants.

R. W. Cathcart gum-shoed it up to Supervisor McClellan during the reading of the Mayor's message and handed him the opposition appropriation bill, covering expenses for the Mayor's appointees. Some folks are working for nothing, or are daily reporting to work for nothing, as will some day be decided, when it is settled whose appointees get paid.

The veto message was the chief business of the thirty-minute session. Fern named Ahia, Logan and Quinn to represent the Board at the meeting of the G. A. R., Tuesday evening, to arrange for the Lincoln Day celebration.

The message of the Mayor returns, without his approval, a resolution en-

STUDIES GREAT
WHITE PLAGUE

Governor Frear, on being asked regarding his previously reported interest in the matter of tuberculosis prevention, said the matter had been on his mind, as was the case with others, for a long time. On the train coming home he read a great deal on the subject and he had written for the statutes of different states on the subject.

He referred to the late Tuberculosis Congress in Washington and said he visited the exhibition in connection therewith which had been removed to New York. The disease was of such a character that it could be easily handled. Education of the people was an important factor. Infected persons might be healed at home, but there should be a system of notification of cases. It might be necessary to have some hospital accommodation, both for the comfort of patients and the avoidance of infection.

Probably it would be well to have some legislation as well as appropriations for combating the disease in Hawaii.

itled "Resolution making appropriations for the various services of the City and County of Honolulu." The Mayor's chief objection is "the loose and illegal methods provided for drawing the money appropriated and paying the same to parties presumed to be entitled thereto." The resolution appropriates $25,220 out of the general fund of the Treasury for six months, apportioning between various departments and head officers. The Mayor says that the Auditor, according to the resolution he vetoes, is positively directed to draw warrants on the Treasury for the whole or any part of the entire appropriation when vouchers are presented and bills are passed by the Board and someone not mentioned has filed schedule, disregarding the right of the auditor to decide for himself whether a warrant can rightfully issue. Then the Mayor objects to the lack of detail, preventing him disapproving individual items as such; also he finds fault with what he terms the assumption of a program whereby almost unlimited obligations can be created and thereafter paid without allowing the Mayor or Auditor any voice.

"The procedure inaugurated by this Board," he says, "is a clear, elaborate and unwise attempt to nullify the power of the Mayor to check by veto the incurring of obligations in the first instance" and if he was to approve the resolution, nearly a quarter of a million dollars would be appropriated and paid out with practically no real check thereon by the Mayor and the resolution seems, he says, to provide salaries for the payment of employees appointed by elected officers and not provided for in the Municipal Act, referring particularly to employees appointed by the Clerk in excess of those allotted him under the Act.

For a square meal that is tasty and generous.
